FRANCE WINS GREAT EVENT.

Victor Demogeot Drove Darracq Car in 58 4-5 Seconds and Was Crowned Speed King of the World.

Victor Demogeot, driver of the famous 200-horsepower Darracq machine, yesterday afternoon, on the Ormond-Beach, drove two miles in the Two-Miles-a-Minute race in 58 4-5 seconds, beating all world's records, also winning over Fred H. Marriott, in the Stanley Steamer, for the same distance by four-fifths of a second. Victor Demogeot was accordingly crowned as the Speed King of the World, amid the applause of several thousand spectators, who saw the race, and also the crowning event.

The beach within a radius of half a mile on each side of the Club House was lined with eager and interested spectators, who wanted to see with their own eyes the great feat which Victor Demogeot, the now world-famous automobile driver, has accomplished.

Several events took place before the Two-Miles-a-Minute race, but every one, as soon as they arrived on the beach, were anxiously inquiring as to what time, and under what conditions, the race would take place. Those who were on the beach waited fully two hours before there were any visions of preparations for the greatest and most extensively advertised race in the world. Every one had felt that the day held for one of the drivers the greatest of honors, and they waited patiently for the event.

As far as the naked eye could see, a continual stream of people were seen coming from the north, in the direction of the Keating Pier, to the headquarters, and mobilization of the crowds in front of the Club House.

It was near 4 o'clock when the first trial of the all-absorbing event was on. The Stanley Steamer, with Marriott as driver, was taken two miles below the starting point, and given a flying start.

As it passed the Club House, the steamer was going at lightning speed and was soon out of the range of vision, however, the crowd knew when it passed over the finishing wire, as the gun at the referee's stand sounded, and the time recorded was 1:03 flat.

The Darracq car, with Victor Demogeot, as driver, was given the same kind of a start as the steamer, and the Frenchman succeeded in cutting down the time to 1:01 3-5.

The second trial for the Stanley car was on. The owner paced a short distance, and returned opposite the stand with a confident and determined look. He probably felt that he had met his equal, if not his superior. But the reporter heard Mr. Stanley in a few words express confidence in Driver Marriott saying that this time he would accomplish the Two-Miles-a-Minute feat. A few seconds after the words had escaped from his mouth, the great cigar-shaped car was off over the course. Then the news came flashing back that the time was 59 3-5 seconds, cutting under the one minute by two-fifths of a second. Mr. Stanley, for a short time, wore a happy smile, and great cheers of applause arose from the mighty throng.

It was now Demogeot's turn to go the steamer one better, and he was soon off over the stretch for the great run. The gun sounded, and the time as announced was 58 4-5 shattering the record made by Marriott by four-fifths of a second.

Mr. Stanley felt that he could not be outdone, as he returned with his racer, passed the Club House and escorted her to a point on the beach then returned to the referee's stand and asked if he could have another trial. Referee Morrell replied that he was too late as another race was on.

Victor Demogeot on his return from his great run, was given a tremendous ovation. Men, women, and children threw handkerchiefs and hats into the air, and photographers made a mighty rush for the beach to get pictures of the Frenchman and his machine.

SPEED KING CROWNED.

After Victor Demogeot had won the great victory, he returned to the stand built expressly for the crowning, and there, Miss Simral, in the presence of "Senator" Morgan, John C. Wetmore, J. D. Price, Asa Paine, and others, crowned the Speed King.

John C. Wetmore, of the New York Evening Mail, was designated to introduce President Paine to the assemblage.

His remarks were terse and to the point, and the crowd listened attentively to the eulogiums he bestowed upon the popular and efficient president of the association, Asa Paine. Mr. Paine's speech was full of enthusiasm, in which he said that on this occasion, Miss Simral, the beautiful young lady from Ormond, would crown Victor Demogeot, the Speed King of the World. He said that the great speed attained, had opened a new epoch in the history of speeding cars, and that now the motive would be to construct a car to beat the great record made today.

Miss Simral, who was beautifully attired in white, in a well chosen address, crowned Victor Demogeot as the Speed King of the World. Her address was as follows:

"In the palmy days of Imperial Rome and Athens it was the custom to crown the national athletic heroes with laurel wreaths.

"Having been chosen to represent our beautiful State of Florida, in the ceremony of crowning the winner of the two miles-a-minute race it gives me infinite pleasure to crown you Mr. Victor Demogeot as the Speed King of the World.

"It is a beautiful crown trophy presented by the Times-Union, the leading paper of our State, and this honor paid you today will be known by all the people of these United States and Europe, tomorrow. You have won against the greatest and most daring drivers of the world and your fame will spread to all corners of the earth with even greater speed than your beautiful racer made.

"May further honor and fortune attend you. You will take to your home and people a crown won in open contest on the world's fastest and safest automobile course, the Ormond-Beach.

"It is now my pleasant duty to place on your head the crown."

THE SPEED KING.

Victor Demogeot, Speed King of all the world, was born in Paris, France, where he has ever since made his home. He is 29 years of age and single. For the past several years he has been a driving partner of the recondite Henry, though this tournament is the first in which he has driven the monster 200-horsepower, eight-cylinder car. It was his first real race that he ran yesterday, yet it was the most wonderful race that has ever been driven.

OPEN AND HEAVY EVENTS.

The Ten-Miles-Heavyweight and Open Championship events were run together. There were two starters; Lancia in the Fiat car, and Marriott with his Stanley Steamer. The winner was Lancia, who made the ten miles in 6:19 3-5. Marriott was second; time, 7:35 3-5. The Stanley car met with an accident, and sprung a leak in its tank. This accounts for the slow time made by the steamer.

Hilliard, in the Napier, was to have entered this contest, but he was unfortunate in breaking his spark plug.

TEN MILE OPEN HANDICAP.

In Event 17 the Ten-Miles-Open Handicap race, Lancia, in his 110-horsepower Fiat car, ran as scratch, and succeeded in covering the ten miles in 6:18 2-5. Hilliard, in the 80-horsepower Napier, was second; time, 8:03 4-5. Harding, in the English Daimler, was the first to pass the Club House, but he did not finish.

THE POST CASE IS STILL ON.

Government Concludes Its Side.—Examination of Witnesses in Behalf of the Defendant Has Begun.

In the United States Court, at Jacksonville, yesterday, the Government closed its side of the famous Post case, and the examination of witnesses in behalf of the defense was begun.

C. H. Mayor and Dr. E. C. Atwood were called, and upon conclusion of their testimony the Government rested its case. The first witness for the defense was A. W. McLarty, and he was followed by J. B. Abercrombie, who at one time had been employed to drive Mrs. Post's carriage, at Seabreeze. He testified that while driving he had heard Mrs. Post say: "Don't talk to me now; I want to treat one of my patients."

Mrs. Belle Lovelace, of Texas, testified that she had been treated by Mrs. Post, and that she had had Mrs. Post treat her daughter for smallpox, her husband for injuries received by a horse falling on him, a 2-year-old son treated for scrofula, a daughter treated for a very bad cough, which was rapidly going into consumption, and a son had also been treated. All had been cured, said the witness, by Mrs. Post's treatment.

Mrs. Lovelace said that she had studied Mrs. Post's teachings and had herself become a mental science healer, and that she had treated her family for the past four years. She had never met Mrs. Post until two years ago, when she was here as a witness in the first trial. She had the utmost faith in Mrs. Post's methods and in Mrs. Post herself. While she could not explain how she knew that Mrs. Post treated her, she said she was perfectly convinced that such was a fact.

She said that when she telegraphed to Mrs. Post for treatment for her daughter, who was suffering with smallpox, she sent the telegram at 9 a. m., and at 2 p. m. received an answer saying, "Expect good results immediately." The child at that time had seventy-two blisters on her face. There was an improvement in the child's condition, and she was cured without other treatment. The treatment was passed from the mother to the child, according to the witness, and immediately after the receipt of the telegram the child turned over and went to sleep, although she had been suffering greatly before that time.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Niver, Monday afternoon, a son.

Judge K. F. Southerland, Frederick Lundy, and several other gentlemen, left this morning in Mr. Lundy's boat the Three Feathers, for the Haulover on a two weeks' fishing and hunting trip. They carried along plenty of supplies and other requisites with which to have a good time.

A Hymn for Today

JERUSALEM THE GOLDEN
By Bernard of Cluny and John M. Neale

ALMOST nothing is known of Bernard save that he was a monk at the old abbey of Cluny, France, in the twelfth century and that he wrote a poem, entitled "De Contemptu Mundi," in which there occur the stanzas from which this hymn and several others were translated. Dr. John M. Neale as the translator deserves much of the credit for the great popularity of this hymn.

JERUSALEM, the golden,
With milk and honey blest,
Beneath thy contemplation
Sink heart and voice oppressed.
I know not, oh, I know not What joys await me there,
What radiance of glory,
What bliss beyond compare.

They stand, those halls of Zion,
All jubilant with song
And bright with many an angel
And all the martyr throng.
The Prince is ever in them;
The daylight is serene;
The pastures of the blessed
Are decked in glorious sheen.

There is the throne of David,
And there, from care released,
The song of them that triumph,
The shout of them that feast,
And they who with their leader
Have conquered in the fight
Forever and forever
Are clad in robes of white.

Oh, sweet and blessed country,
Shall I e'er see thy face?
Oh, sweet and blessed country,
Shall I e'er win thy grace?
Exult, oh, dust and ashes,
The Lord shall be thy part;
His only, his forever,
Thou shalt be and thou art

A Poem for Today

LOVE'S GIFT
By Dinah Maria Mulock Craik

DINAH MARIA MULOOCK CRAIK, novelist and poet, was born at Stoke-upon-Trent, England, in 1832, and died near London Oct. 12, 1887. Mrs. Craik's fame rests chiefly upon her novels, which are of a strong domestic English type. The best known of them is "John Halifax, Gentleman," which retains its hold upon English-speaking readers, although the rest of Mrs. Craik's novels are now somewhat neglected. She published between forty and fifty volumes of novels, tales for the young, stories of travels and poems. Among the best known of her poetical works are "Philip, My King," "Too Late" and "Now and Afterward."

LOVE that asketh love again
Finds the better naught but pain.
Love that giveth in full store
Aye receives as much and more.

Love that asketh nothing back Never suffers any lack.
Love that seeketh love in pay
Rues the bargain every day.

Easy Housekeeping.

Native housewives in the West Indian jungle find housekeeping very easy. Fruit and vegetables grow wild all about the hut, and the river abounds with fish. On washday all she has to do is to pick a few of the berries of the soap berry tree, take her clothes to the river and use the berries as she would use ordinary soap. Even her cooking pots grow on the trees, the calabash cut in halves being used for this purpose. Calabashes are also used for bowls, basins and jugs for carrying water from the river, while the small ones make excellent cups. In the afternoon when she is ready for her cup of tea she picks half a dozen leaves from the lime bush growing at her door, boils them, squeezes the juice from a sugar cane for sweetening, and the coconut supplies the milk. Thus she has a delicious cup of tea without depending on the grocer for it.

The Pleiades.

Those timekeepers the Pleiades have been used to mark the days from the most remote periods. T. W. Fewkes, describing the fire ceremonies of the Pueblo Indians of Tusayan, said that, having been present on two such occasions in 1892 and 1893, he found that the error of time made by the Indians as to the 13th of November in those two years was insignificant. It was the culmination of the Pleiades which told the Indians the proper time for the beginning of their rites.

Education.

What sculpture is to a block of marble, education is to a human soul. The philosopher, the saint and the hero—the wise, the good and the great man—very often lie hid and concealed in a plebeian, which a proper education might have disinterred and brought to light.—
Addison.

His Luck.

"He's so unlucky," said the Billville citizen, "that I verily believe that if he wuz ter hide from a hurricane in a storm pit a earthquake would come along an' swaller the storm pit."—Atlanta Constitution.

It Wasn't Art.

One of the best stories concerning the late George du Maurier is that about a pavement artist who some years ago was a familiar object to frequenters of the Hampstead road.

Du Maurier often dropped a coin into the poor man's hat. One cold day the author of "Trilby" told him to leave his "pittah" and go to the model soup kitchen in Euston road to get some food. Du Maurier, for fun, said he would take charge of his hat.

When the man was out of sight he rubbed out the pictures of dogs, soldiers, etc., and commenced sketching portraits in chalk of the society people he used to draw for Punch. Passersby stopped to look and gave pence. When the man returned he was pleased to find so much in his hat, but was sorry that his work had been destroyed. "This may attract some people, but it ain't art," he said to the amused Du Maurier as he commenced wiping out the society ladies and gentlemen.

"Now, this pleases every one," he continued, drawing the picture of a soldier.—London Express.

Secondhand Wisdom.

Sir Roger de Coverley obliged his chaplain to deliver sermons written by famous old divines in lieu of original preachments, and Addison assures us that many clergymen would do well to adopt the plan, but most congregations prefer a minister who speaks his own thoughts, however mediocre they may be.

The New Orleans States says that a bishop, commenting on the aversion of congregations to sermon reading, tells this story:

A sermon reading clergyman, a friend of mine, called one day on a humble parishioner, a cobbler. He sat tending a pair of boots and reading his Bible at the same time.

"What are you doing, Gilles?" asked my friend, with a benevolent smile.

"Prophesying," Gilles answered.

"Prophesying? Nonsense!"

"Well," said the cobbler, curtly, "if readin' a sermon is preachin', isn't readin' a prophesy prophesying?"

All Annoyed With the God.

Monus, in Greek fable, was the god of mockery and censure, who delighted in finding fault with gods and men. He was chosen to act as judge when there was a strife between Neptune, Minerva and Vulcan for supremacy in artistic power. Neptune made a bull, Minerva a house and Vulcan a man. Monus declared that Neptune should have set his bull's horns farther forward for fighting purposes. He said that Minerva should have so constructed her house that it could be moved away from troublesome neighbors and that Vulcan should have made a window in the man's breast through which his thoughts could be seen. All were so annoyed at his criticisms that they turned him out of heaven, and soon after this he died of vexation because he could find no fault in Venus, the goddess of love and beauty.

DAYTONA AND ITS ATTRACTIONS.

DAYTONA is situated upon the west bank of the Halifax River at its widest expanse and midway between its source at Bulow Bay and its outlet at Mosquito Inlet. It is in latitude 29, seventy-four miles from St. Augustine and one mile from the Atlantic Ocean, and is acknowledged to be without a rival for beauty among the villages of the South. Its site is upon what is known as high hammock land that was crowned by nature with a most royal growth of majestic forest trees, and among these trees is the town of today, with its beautiful cottages and well-graded walks and streets. The result is that all along the wide avenues that intersect the town are lovely live and water oaks and bickories, many of them draped with graceful festoons of the gray Spanish moss, that overarch the street and walks, and among these are interspersed tall tropical palmettos, glossy-leaved magnolias, fragrant bays and coral-berried holly, and many other varieties, while in many places the wild grape, the trumpet vine and the amplexoid climb and cling among the branches forming shady bowers and adding grace and beauty.

The town lies parallel with the Halifax River, and extends for nearly two miles along the shore. This river is the delight of the angler and the yachtsman and forms one of the town's greatest attractions.

The main avenues that run parallel with or intersect the river are all 100 feet wide, except Beach street, which is about sixty-five feet, but has a half-mile of open, beautiful water abutting upon its eastern side, where the salt waves ebb and flow and along and across which comes the cooling, invigorating and health-giving breezes from off the wide Atlantic, which temper and render the Halifax climate one of the most perfect in the world.

Daytona has many miles of well-graded, marled and shelled roads and streets, rendering it the

and added to these, but a mile away, are thirty miles of smooth, hard beach, that affords an unrivalled course for long-distance cycling and driving or automobile racing. No town of equal size, North or South, numbers so many wheelmen, and cycling is a favorite pastime with the tourists summer and winter.

The Beautiful Cottages

that have been erected during the past years and are being built are rendering Daytona as famous for its fine homes as for its beautiful river, tree and avenues, and they are adding yearly to its attractions.

Not the least of these attractions to those securing homes in the South and ranking second only to healthfulness and perfection of climate, is the fact that its population is chiefly composed of cultivated and intelligent people, accustomed to the refinement of home and social life. Added to these features are good churches, good public and private schools, stores, hotels, laundry, meat markets, novelty works, an opera house, electric light, for street and house illumination, a good telephone system, ice factory, Lily Water Works, and hot and cold baths, etc., and everything else can be procured that is necessary to make life comfortable. An important feature in the healthfulness of this town is the

Water Supply

which is derived from numerous flowing wells, of which there are probably 300 in the corporate limits. This flow is secured by boring wells to the depth of from 80 to 120 feet, passing through several strata of rock, and this depth assures purity from all surface contamination. The water is slightly impregnated with magnesia and iron, and holds sulphur in the shape of gas, which soon passes away.

The Population of Daytona proper is about 1,800. Added to this is a suburban population on main shore and peninsula of about 1,000 at Kingston, Blake, Old Seabreeze or Goodall, Seabreeze and Silver Beach which are properly a part of the town and population.

Daytona Beach

lies one mile east of the town. It is approached by three good bridges over the river and well-graded avenues, and is the principal summer resort south of St. Augustine. It has more tourists during the summer than all other places south of that city combined, and is also becoming a favorite winter resort. The beach is wide, firm and smooth, by many considered the finest in the world, and the surf bathing is safe and excellent summer and winter. People who have tried Northern and Western summer resorts assure that there are none so perfect in comfort as Daytona beach.

Automobile Race Meet.

The Florida East Coast Automobile Association conducts an annual race meet on the beach, which has now a universal reputation as the greatest automobile race course in the world. The Daytona-Ormond Beach is hard as macadam, and an ideal stretch of thirty or more miles without a break makes it the natural racing ground for America.

At low tide the beach is bare for 300 feet and neither carriage wheel, bicycle or pedestrian can make a barely visible imprint on the smooth and well-packed sand. It is no uncommon sight to see sail-rigged bicycles speeding with the velocity of the wind before a stiff breeze along the smooth beach, thus affording the most exhilarating sport known to man. Besides these, miles of hard-shelled, palm-fringed boulevards bring the lovers of the wheel and vehicles into direct touch with the mainland over the broad bridges which span the splendid Halifax River.

The beach from the sandy bluffs to the lowest point at oblique, measures about 500 feet, and the average depth of the surf measures about two feet. A continuous gentle swell rolls in from the ocean from one to two feet in depth under normal conditions, making the beach an attractive and absolutely safe place for surf-bathing. Here the infant as well as the gray-haired veteran of many summers safely enjoy the luxury of a sea bath throughout the larger part of the year while the strong and expert swimmer can venture out further to test his strength and skill in battling with the inexhaustible powers of the mighty ocean.

The Peninsula

lying between river and ocean is one half mile wide, and is being rapidly improved, and there are many fine cottages and several good hotels, a perna house, two ocean piers, beach-avellon and a large casino.

A Remarkable Feature

at Daytona has been the yearly improvement in the style and value in the buildings that are being erected for homes. Men of capital of the North and West have become awakened to its advantages for winter residences, and valuable lots are being purchased and costly houses, beautiful in design and finish, are being erected, and beautiful homes, the abodes of wealth and culture are multiplying.

Seabreeze (City Beautiful) and Goodall are settlements on the Ocean side of the peninsula across the Halifax River from Daytona.

At the foot of Ocean Boulevard Seabreeze, a pier reaches 600 feet across the beach into the swelling surf of the ocean. This pier is a favorite resort of those who delight in the sport of fishing. The surf here abounds in trout, pompano, yellowtail, cavalla, whiting, drum, sheepshead and many other varieties of edible fish. During the fall season the famous sea bass affords royal sport, and it has been no uncommon occurrence to land a thousand pounds of this gamey fish in an afternoon.

Not only does the ocean offer this splendid sport, but the Halifax River, only half a mile back of the ocean, is equally famous for its fine fishing, and the varieties that abound in the ocean are present in the river.

Hunting and fishing good. Experienced guides and dogs may be had at reasonable prices.

Attorney Bert Fish, of DeLand, spent Monday in Daytona.

Buel P. Pellett has decided not to go to Gainesville, but will remain here in the employ of the Gazette-News Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reeves have gone to Palm Beach to attend the motorboat races. Mr. Reeves is city editor of the Boston Globe.

Commodore Gardiner, H. G. Hummel, and several others left this morning in a launch for Port Orange, where the Commodore will secure a boat with which to go cruising.

H. S. Wilbur, of Jacksonville, who has represented The Times Union here during the automobile races, left last night for Palm Beach, to report the motor boat races for his paper.

During race week the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company remained open until midnight, but in future it will close at 8 o'clock. A large volume of business has passed through the local office during the past ten days.

Services at the various churches, on Sunday were largely attended. The pretty day brought many people out for both morning and evening services.

Mrs. J. M. Jones returned Saturday from Orlando, where she attended the annual convention of the Episcopal Church and the State meeting of the Daughters of the King. Mrs. Jones was re-elected president. Miss Lanthie Bond, also of this city, was elected State treasurer.

Long Was Short.

A one-legged tramp named Long, has, for several days past, been terrorizing the residents of Holly Hill. He went into several homes and frightened the feminine occupants.

Long had taken on an overdose of intoxicants and last night attempted to strike Marshal Thomas Wetherell, who was in his wagon. The marshal saw the unruly condition of the man, and he was determined that something should be done with him. He called for the assistance of his brother, Charles Wetherell, and they succeeded in getting the tramp in the wagon, but it was no easy job, as the tramp was exceedingly strong, and gave them a great amount of trouble.

In the scuffle, Long succeeded in getting the marshal's revolver and was in the act of shooting him, when the brother snatched the revolver out of the tramp's hands.

The two men in the wagon with the tramp finally reached the canal on Beach Street, and Marshal Zuber joined in, and gave them valuable assistance in keeping the man in the wagon until the city lockup on the bridge, was reached.

Long will be turned over to the county authorities, and justice will be meted out to him.
